Rams Baseballers Off On Right Foot In Conference Play

It's Belle Glade, Forest Hill, Ft. Pierce and Vero Beach off on the right foot with initial marks in the standings as the Suncoast Conference baseball campaign opened the latter part of the past week.

Nine games are planned this week with six of them to count in the race. Three Tuesday include Clewiston at Stuart for a league match and Lake Worth at Vero and Ft. Pierce at Palm Beach for non-counting contests.

Five league titles are slated for Friday with everybody except Lake Worth busy. Rivera Beach opens its card by entertaining Vero. Secret trips to Clewiston, Stuart calls on Pahokee, Palm Beach plays at Forest Hill and Belle Glade is at Ft. Pierce.

Non-league Melbourne visits Vero Saturday.

Eleven warmup games preceded the first games, which counted and Suncoast teams were staggeringly successful, mostly at the expense of the Okeechobee School for Boys.

The school was victimized twice each by Vero, Forest Hill and Belle Glade, Clewiston and Forest Hill defeated Ft. Myers and Jupiter, respectively. Lake Worth blanked Palm Beach and Ft. Pierce played a tie in Melbourne and then shutout Stuart.

Belle Glade parlayed five hits with seven Stuart bobbles for a 2-1 success Wednesday in the opening Suncoast game. Forest Hill went an extra inning to land defending champion Lake Worth 1-0 and Palm Beach and Pahokee fought a 5-5 tie Thursday. Vero clubbed guest Clewiston 10-0 and Ft. Pierce triumphed 7-2 at Secret Friday to complete the leadoff action.

Included in the projects to be paid for by the second fund bond issue is the bridge to be built at 25th street, but the plans have not been readied to the point of letting bids.

Expected to attend from Belle Glade, Florida National Bank, E. M. Livey.

License Fees Benefits Fish Management Areas

The PB County commission gave its endorsement to a proposed legislative bill which would boost the cost of a fresh water fishing license to $3. Under the act, $1 from every license would be set aside for the development of fish management areas, development of fishing areas and for the restoration of fishing waters that have ceased to be productive.

"Hick School" Broadens Vision Herald Employee "I Want $50.00" Gets Stern Penalty For 18 Year-old Throughout Fla

Mrs. W. C. Allen, affectionately known as "Hick" and "Ma" Allen, succumbed to a lingering malignancy in the Belle Glade Memorial Hospital last Thursday, and was buried Saturday afternoon at Hillcrest following funeral services at the South Bay First Baptist Church, conducted by Pastor, James Penton.

Former Ninth District President of the Legion Auxiliary, and Past President of Everglades Post No. 20 and South Bay Post No. 161, Auxiliary, Mrs. Allen was widely known throughout Florida Legion membership, and throughout the years at Veterans Hospital, where she was a frequent messenger of good will and cheer to the veterans.

Former Chairman, Drives for Red Cross, Cancer, TB and "What Have You" for the good of the community, have found Mrs. Allen chalking up quotas and leading local campaigns for the public good.

As Chairman of Equipment and Supplies for the Glades Health Committee, "Ma" Allen was ready to supply sick room equipment for clients of the Visiting Nurse Corps, from her store of gathered-up items.

In her position as the only woman member of the South Bay Commission, Mrs. Allen was always on call on City's business as well as service before the public.

A native Texan, and with more than a third of a century residence in the Glades, Mrs. Allen was one of the "Oldtimers," and has left her mark on the community which she so willingly served.

Her long illness and hospitalization brought voluntary financial help spontaneously from school children, business men and casual acquaintances, as a mark of appreciation for her many years of service to the community.

Active pallbearers were Henry Eifers, Vernon Henderson, Leo Oyster, O'Neil Walker and H. Wierenga. Burial was in the graves of Berline Walker, Gordon, Doug Womack, Luther Jones, Frank Willis and Frank Lynn Kelly.

The Post Standards and the National Council of Legion and Auxiliary Post of South Bay and Belle Glade were presented by members and the Guard of Honor.

Survivors include her husband, W. C. Allen, South Bay; three sons, Bill, San Diego, Calif., Clifford, Houston, Tex., and James C. Jacksonville; two daughters, Mrs. Jane Murray, Lantana; and Mrs. Martha Abbe, Fort Pierce; one brother, Hoke B. Niles, South Bay; one sister, Mrs. Minnie Belle Hester, South Bay; 13 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

"Ma" was delighted to see her first great-grandchild born at the local hospital on March 15.

He was a member and a former deacon of First Baptist Church, Belle Glade and F. E. C. By, which inspector while in business here.

Survivors include five sons, John W. Jr., Merton J. and Robert all of Belle Glade; George W. of Pahokee, Frank E. of Dunedun, and Adrian of Greenville, S. C.; two daughters, Mrs. L. C. M. Rashley, of Kenosha, Wis., and Mrs. Helen C. Anjima of Clearwater, Fla.; and two great-grandchildren.

Burial will take place in P. Lauderdale Memorial Park at 3 p. m. Pallbearers will be W. E. Schlechter, Vernon Jones, W. L. Cunningham, Sr., J. K. Baker, F. M. McAllister, G. W. McClure, and J. W. Williams. Williams Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

"Hick School" Broadens Vision

It's reported that following announcement that Belle Glade students had won second place in sweepstakes awards at an all-county contest in drama, humor, poetry interpretation and extemporaneous speaking, one bewildered city dweller explained that her teacher had reported that "Belle Glade is a hick school" with no potential danger for "us quality groups."

Well, Lady Teacher, "Where at is you from?" Is you from Hicksville? You know, some of us country folks are blessed with parents who own and operated multi-million dollar sugar producing complexes; some are in the throes of organizing TWO half-million-dollar banks and some are owner-operators of five million dollar winter vegetable operations - we just naturally absorb something from daddy and several of our aunts have speaking acquaintance with "institutions of higher learning."

"Sorry to disappoint you this time, and we'll be studying special for the next time, now that it ain't so hard."

Wayne Wood's poetry interpretation of Carl Sandburg's "Chicago" and his extemporaneous delivery of Robert Frost's "The Road Not Taken" did not do it for his first place award.

"Susan Weaver of Lake Harbor" delighted the audience and brought approving smiles and votes from the Judges with her "Toupee or not to Toupee" take-off of well-known literature in a humorous vein; she received second place.

Barbara Wolf, brought home third place in the field of drama as the hysterical and demented character in "Elnora," a character in "Elnora."

Rebecca Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Hill in poetry interpretation won "The Creation" as her vehicle. With a fifteen minute assignment her extemporaneous reading of Frost's "Toupee or not to Toupee" brought her to an honorable mention.

Ron Hallbrook delivered a speech on the subject "Should the Moon be Declared International Territory?" thirty minutes after his extemporaneous discussion of the subject by assignment.

Belle Glade's students accumulated a score which gave them second place in the Sweepstakes Awards in contests with all of the County's white schools. Some accomplishment for a hick school!

"Hick" may be our boys and girls will REALLY try to do better next time. The participants were: Belle Glade, Wayne Wood, Poetry Interpretation and Humor; Susan Weaver, Humor; Barbara Wolf, Drama; Becky Hill, Dramatics and Poetry.

In addition, Mike Berryhill read dramatics, long ball, Fred Ball and Lee Bobby Blakely, Tommy Coles and Marynne Collins entered the extemporaneous spring sports event. Only shorts and shoes may be employed.

Clewiston officially withdrew from the league effective May 31 after 13 years membership. No comments were evoked by the resignation letter from Principal Pellon Morris of Belle Glade to require each school to play all other schools one basketball game during the season scheduled 5-4 with Clewiston and Palm Beach again abstaining.

A principals' committee report calling for a 15-minute maximum on football halftime band shows was approved. Officers for next year, who will be elected at the next meeting June 8 in Ft. Pierce were nominated. They include Morris, president, Principal Ned Garten of McDuffy, Ft. Pierce, vice-president, and four coaches for the three-man executive committee. They are Martin Goff of Riviera, Jeter Barker of Lake Worth, Bob Riggs of Forest Hill and Joe Cervasio of Palm Beach.

Mrs. Nada Hill sponsored and chaperoned the group in this contest.

Cancer Society Presents Program To Lions Club

The Lions Club members heard a program sponsored by the American Cancer Society at its luncheon meeting Wednesday. Mrs. H. B. Smith, Educational director of West Palm Beach showed films on "It Is From Cigarette Smoking."

clumps of bushes into great black bears, graceful streamers of moss turned into Seminole Indian head-dresses, the mournful cry of the Linkin was a voice in the distance calling for help. It made all of us thankful for that our state and Federal Governments have looked far enough into the future to preserve these final bits of unspoiled nature that is our heritage.

Friday afternoon was spent putting up tents and preparing the campsite for occupation. Cooking was the main activity for the evening topped off with a few games, such as steal the bacon, and chess the coons.

Reveille at 5 a. m. Saturday morning started the ball rolling, and a very exciting day began. The morning flew quickly by as the Scouts passed tests and took advantage of the numerous prepared trails through the park. The most outstanding trail of the morning was the foot bridge trail through the swamp where many birds and snakes were seen. We must not forget the 6 hardy boys that got up at 3 a. m. and hiked about 2 miles one-way to observe nature tumbling in or out of bed as the case happened to be. The primary purpose of the excursion was to see some deer, allack and alas only one was seen.

The afternoon sped by with the boys building rustic camp furniture, passing tests and going on a guided tour of the park. The Naturalist conducting the tour pointed out many different plants and told of their uses. The adults remembered the plants and trees and the boys talked only of the 60 or more alligators that were seen, and the guide feeding them marsh-mallows. Needless to say, this attraction, one of the many in the Park, was enjoyed to the utmost.

Skits, songs, and a couple of weird stories enlivened Saturday night's campfire. Before the boys went to bed, they combed the woods for armadillos. Though many were sighted they would not cooperate by standing still long enough for observation. Park rules would not allow catching them or other animals.

Sunday morning church services were held before Mr. Fred White, his message to the boys pointed out the fact that God's presence was everywhere. The beautiful setting in which the services were held added further inspiration and brought the morning message home that much more clearly.

After lunch Greg Jones was greatly surprised when all the boys were called together and he was presented with a beautiful birthday cake a St. Patrick's Day theme. This was in celebration of Greg's thirteenth birthday and was sent along on the trip by his mother. All of the boys were very happy that Greg had such a thoughtful mother and completely demolished the cake before you could say Jack Robinson.

Scoutmasters and adults on the trip were: R. H. Lewis, C. E. Haines, Jimmy Snow, Fred White, Ken Lutz, and Wallace Lutz. Mrs. Lois Ruff helped with transportation to and from camp, and spent the weekend in Sebring with friends.

Scouts attending were: Coon, Patrol, Stewart Chappell, Jimmy Besede, Wally Lutz, Brian Moore, Greg Jones, and Jimmy

Enjoying the Florida Weather and the products which make Belle Glade known throughout the nation in produce circles were the Honorable Frederick C. Belen, Assistant Postmaster General of the United States and Honorable John D. Swygert, Director, Installations Management Division of Washington, D. C.

Host Postmaster Rosa A. Nash made arrangements for fishing on Lake Okechobee for the two Postal Officials and entertained with an outdoor barbecue on Saturday evening at her home. Fresh vegetables including a generous supply of "Corn on-the-cob" were donated through the courtesy of a local packing house.

On Sunday the group were joined by Postmaster and Mrs. Anthony I. Lambert, of Philadelphia, Penn.; Chief of the General Accounting Section, Philadelphia Post Office, William H. Bryant and Mrs. Bryant; Postmaster Jimmie Bryant Jr., of Orlando, Florida; and the Hon. Howard Lewis, Assistant to the Assistant Postmaster General of Washington, D. C. Mr. Belen, Mr. Swygert and Mr. Lewis were enroute to Orlando where the new ABCD mail program went into effect on Monday.

The outdoor barbecue was repeated for the new guests on Sunday evening.

Mr. Belen, a native of Lansing, Michigan, prior to his appointment as head of the Bureau of Operations, largest Bureau of the Post Office Department, served for 14 years as Counsel and Chief Counsel for the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

As head of the Operations Bureau, he directs the policies and regulations governing the Postal System, and is responsible for the expeditious processing and safe delivery of 67 billion pieces of mail a year.

The Hon. Belen expressed himself as being well pleased with the operations of the local post office and congratulated Mrs. Nash on being one of the 35,000 "good salesmen" the Post Office Department has in its postmaster group. He further stated his Bureau was always more than ready to assist any postmaster in undertaking a program of better postal service for its patrons.

This is the second trip the Hon. Belen has made to the Glades area through an invitation extended by Mrs. Nash. Mr. Belen and his son, Freddie, enjoyed fishing on Lake Okechobee while they were vacationing in Ft. Lauderdale during the Christmas holidays.

One of the delectable cake man was Carl C. Lockmiller known as one of the best fishermen in the area.

Spring Silhouettes

Many silhouettes are outlined in spring fashion fashions. All, however, combine freedom of movement with simplicity, according to Miss Mary Todd, Home Demonstration Agent.

Some silhouettes are spare and slim. Others are full and flowing. Styles range from gamine outdoor clothes to appealing feminine costumes.

Hemlines are still unpredictable. Most skirts terminate just below the knee.

Fabric detailing is significant. Pockets are much in evidence. Cuffs have come back to the well-turned sleeve. Fullness is introduced in numerous ways to give a feeling of movement.

Waistlines vary in placement and often are accented with belts and drawstrings.

Lengthened jackets are big news in spring suits, although many short ones are also shown. A refreshing new look is the sweater or pullover suit.

Costs are free-swinging, with added fullness in coat backs or all around.

It wasn't too long ago that the sight of the first grey hair was a matter of deep concern to a woman who hurriedly headed for the dye bottle to disguise the silver strands.

Nowadays, however, grey hair can be so attractive that many young women wait impatiently for the first signs of grey or impatient time by the use of color treatments that give them the silver shades they want.

Grey or white hair is the most flattering frame a complexion can have. But it must be at the right place in smooth waves and soft curls. Straight, hanging hair-dos are unbefitting to grey hair, as are frizzy or teased, high fashion styles.

Unless it is kept lustrous and shining, grey hair loses its outstandingly attractive appearance. It requires frequent shampooing with a crystal-clear shampoo, followed by a creme rinse for manageability. Because there is a tendency to be a bit dry or thin, use a hair conditioner to keep it soft and healthy. There are hair conditioners made especially for grey hair. V05 Blue for Grey is one that helps bring out highlights and prevent yellowing while it keeps the hair well groomed.

You'll find also that a spray for grey hair will help keep your hair-do in place while letting its natural luster shine through.

A silver-grey head will enhance your complexion, but requires that you use a light touch with your make-up. Perfect your skin tones with foundation and powder and avoid dark lipstick or rouge and heavy eye make-up. Strive to achieve a light effect in make-up that gives a glow-from-within quality.

Grey hair will also require lighter colors in your wardrobe to set off your silver head. You can adopt the many greys that complement your hair shade, varying them with rich pastels and occasionally a dark shade such as royal blue.

Whether you're grey by the grace of time, prematurely grey or just looking forward to greying, you can be elegantly, gloriously grey with the use of intelligence, taste and know-how.

Mrs. Letha Beeks is spending this week in Frostproof with her mother who is ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack King from Orlando visited during the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James Beiersdorfer, who are now residing in South Bay, recently moved there from Plymouth, Fla. The Kings also visited other friends in Belle Glade.

Mrs. Mary McCoole of Birmingham, Ala., is making her home with Mr. L. P. Hudson at 232 S. W. Ave. B. Mrs. Hudson is employed at the Sweet Shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Bateman returned Monday to their home in Zellwood after visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Livingston and family, for a few days.

Weekend guests of Mrs. J. I. Freedlund were her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Doll and family of Jacksonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Powers were weekend guests of Mrs. J. C. Croupe at Indian town.

UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

Dear Mister Editor:
I'm real much obliged to that subscriber for sending in the letter to you about Ed Doolittle and the fellows at the country store trying to trim our Senators and House members to half what we now get. He makes a good point there when he says the Constitution calls for 2 Senators. He has also got a good point when he says they ain't nobody allowed to mess with the United States Constitution but Jack, Bobby, and Earl Warren. And he has got a extra good point when he warns that if we mess with the matter we're liable to have the FBI gitting us out of bed at 3 in the morning for questioning. But all the fellows were agreed they was willing to take a chance on all three items if we could git the Senators cut down from 2 to 1.
And this subscriber's idea to reduce the 50 states down to about 12 is the most forward thinking I have saw since Harry built that front porch onto the White House. Gitting rid of the graft in 38 states and just confining the under the table and in the public trough boys to 12

Home Wanted ... By Nice Doggy

A male cocker Spaniel, has been a house pet, is at the city dog pound for adoption along with several other nice dogs. This dog is too nice to adopt to be sent into the pound in about a week as it would be a good pet for a child. Anyone interested can call Police Station or see the dog at the city pound out at the Water plant.

Our father Adam sat under the Tree and scratched with a stick in the mould
And the first rude sketch that the world had seen was joy to his mighty heart.
Till the Devil whispered behind the leaves, 'It's pretty, but is it Art?'

Rudyard Kipling predicted the dilemma of John Doe in an art gallery in this verse. The bewildered novice does not know whether to stand in awe and reverence before the art on display, or merely to pause in mild condescension. Today's first paid of books introduces the wide scope of painting to the child. A primary grade child will enjoy them, although they should prove acceptable well up into the elementary grades. By educating the child to understand the art that so often confuses the parent, we may raise up a generation more in keeping with the spirit of book number three, which centers around Mrs. John F. Kennedy, and her famous tour of the White House.
Do You See What I See? Helen Borten.

Here are lines, shapes, and colors, and shaggy ones, steady shapes, six silver triangles flying in a row, and a green as cool as a crisp leaf of lettuce. This is a poetic, witty little book, which can open doorways to the world of expression.

A Picture Has a Special Look. Helen Borten.

"Pencil pictures can refresh me like a cooling rain. . . But the special thing about this is its silverlines." Crayons are waxy, and water colors are transparent, and a collage is a riot of surprises. So is this book. Unexpected, vivid colors dramatic illustrations of picture types, and the same picture in many different ways.

A Tour of the White House With Mrs. John F. Kennedy. Wolif.

This exceptionally handsome volume was given to the library by Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Taylor in memory of Mr. J. L. Fredlund. Based on the television program of the same name, one of the most successful programs in the history of television, the book expands beyond the television text into a brief history of the "wives and walls" of the executive mansion. The Queens and the wallflowers who were hostesses, the kitchens that once stood under water at flood time with floors laid atop rotting floors that resulted, the ornate Victorian plushness that sometimes furnished the rooms, the stuffed African trophies that decorated the House during the Teddy Roosevelt era, and President Truman's porch . . . the book is full of such topics of historical interest. Included in the 150 photographs are several behind-the-scenes photographs taken of the President and Mrs. Kennedy during the filming of the program, and 8 pages of color photos.

Celery Is Low In Calories!

Kids Like It With Peanut Butter

American youngsters have selected celery as their No. 1 choice among fresh vegetables, according to a recent preference study.

During the next few weeks, large shipments of Florida celery will be hitting the food markets throughout the East.

In an effort to help sales, Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner announced today that the Department's marketing division will assist celery growers in a special promotion. The growers will put up the money.

The promotion will be held in connection with National Peanut Week, and supermarkets will be featuring celery stuffed with peanut butter. This combination not only provides an appetizer for meals, but it is also a great in-between-meal snack for youngsters, according to food specialists.

Fla. Dept. Of Ag Ready To Protect Food Sources And Supplies

In the event of an enemy attack on the United States, your Florida Department of Agriculture will be prepared to go in to action.

We are training our personnel to protect themselves against chemical, biological or radiological warfare, and to carry out duties assigned to them in a post-attack period.

Under conditions of general war, normal agricultural economic and governmental activities would be disrupted and in many instances temporarily isolated.

Many warehouses, processing plants, large retail stores and other vital supply areas would probably be destroyed or contaminated. Agricultural production would also suffer from the effects of contamination of farm lands, crops, cattle, pastures and citrus groves.

As a result, preparedness cannot be stressed too much.

Charles R. McNabb, our Civil Defense Coordinator, has just completed plans outlining the emergency duties and responsibilities of each division in the Department.

The Division of Administration, for example, is responsible for the overall planning and supervision of the Civil Defense plan.

This division will select personnel to fill the key posts, and will take steps to protect records, documents and supplies from the effects of an enemy attack. It will also serve as an information center during any emergency.

Training department personnel to protect themselves against the effects of chemical, biological and radiological war will be the responsibility of the Division of Chemistry.

At the same time, the Division of Dairy Industry will act as an advisor on the control of milk and dairy products not under the jurisdiction of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This division will also maintain an estimated inventory of products normally on hand in the state and the average day's requirements, and train its personnel to detect contaminated dairy products.

The Division of Standards, with the assistance of the Petroleum Task Group, will prepare plans to control petroleum products at the retail and bulk plant level which are not under the supervision of the U. S. Department of Interior or other Federal agencies.

This division will also prepare inventories of supply and advise the CD authorities on the recommended restrictions on sale of gasoline and other petroleum products.

Inventories of estimated cattle or processed meat on hand in plants under state inspection will be the responsibility of the Division of Animal Industry. This division will also be prepared to re-supply and continue operation of plants under state inspection.

The Division of Plant Industry will train its personnel to deal with the effects of contamination, as well as carry on its normal duties.

Since citrus and vegetables will be a valuable source of food supply, not only in Florida but in many other states, the Division of Fruit and Vegetables Inspection will use every means to continue operations.

C. B. Willingham, Business Manager, Southeast Florida TB Hospital, said the hospital census is 448 patients, with a waiting list of 16 — 8 white males and 8 non-white males.
Robert J. Sanders, Vice President, stressed that RDs rank fourth among all causes of death and are the principal cause of absenteeism from school and work.

12 Hr. Endurance Race At Sebring Saturday, Mar. 23

The internationally famous Sebring 12 HOUR ENDURANCE RACE running here in Sebring, Florida, Saturday, March 23rd again takes the spotlight in the automotive racing world. Each year, new awards and distinctions have placed the Sebring, classic high above any other race in the United States and in similar races throughout the world.

So, with the 1963 running of this road racing spectacle, Sebring once again moves ahead with confirmation forwarded to race organizer Alice Ullmann from Mr. Hubert Schroeder, Secretary of the Commission Sportive Internationale of the F. I. A. (world governing body of automotive racing) that the 1963 Sebring 12 Hour of Endurance has been designated as one of the two or three long distance road racing events of the world eligible to receive triplicate points towards the coveted F. I. A. world championship trophies to manufacturers.

Small wonder that the cream of the world's fastest cars and champion drivers will be here on Saturday, March 23 for the 12 hours of car and driver punishing hours that are Sebring. International timing equipment will start the over 1000 miles race sharp at 10:00 A. M. Saturday, March 23, avoid any delay, write Automobile Racing Club of Florida, P. O. flameless is the BIG DIFFERENCE in ELECTRIC WATER HEATING

"FLAMELESS" means CLEANER, COOLER, FASTER, SAFER. More than a million Florida families have "switched" to electric water heating. It's the only really modern way for a dependable supply of hot water in a hurry with never a worry. No flame, no fumes, no sooty, grimy by-products of combustion to soil walls and furnishings. The whole house stays cleaner and cooler. Completely automatic and safe as a light bulb. It's cheaper, too.

THE FLAMELESS WAY
ELECTRIC heat is sealed in 100% surrounded by insulation. Therefore, water heats faster... stays hot longer.

THE FLAME-TYPE WAY
FLAME heat can't be completely sealed in... is wasted up, down, stays hot longer.

Install on a Super-Fast, Super-Safe Flameless Electric Water Heater for Precious Peace of Mind. Requires No Flue... It's Flameless. Tuck it Away Anywhere... and Forget it!

See the round, square, or counter-top models at your electric appliance dealer, plumber or electrical contractor.

Here's no match for Flameless Electric Living. It's CHEAPER, TOO.

If you want a truck that does its work without yelling for attention all the time, buy a "new reliable" Chevrolet.
You have to take care of it; it's a machine. But this isn't a full-time activity. The clear idea is that the truck works for you, not vice versa. The way to build such a truck is to put more quality into it. For example, Chevrolet doesn't build one type of suspension system for all sizes of trucks. Chevrolet designs suspension systems to fit your need. The light-duty type is strong on comfort. Another kind for heavier trucks stiffens up as you increase your load and vice versa. Make sense? Conventional pickups have double-wall construction in cabs, doors, lower side panels. Roofs are insulated. Body floors are select wood, not metal. Trunking chains are wrapped in rubber. If you'd like to examine or drive a new '63 Chevrolet truck, just call us. We'll be right over.

Fla. enrolled as a student in the Graham School for Cattlemen (Beef and Dairy), Garnett, Kansas, for a week of intensive training in artificial insemination of cattle and in herd management.

The Graham School was founded in 1909 by Frank B. Graham, Master Breeder, and has attained world-wide recognition as a school for the training of herdsmen and breeders by visual demonstrations and actual "on the farm" methods of instruction.

Classes are held the second full week of each month. All students are given individual help and instructions and are provided opportunities to work with live animals and warm carcasses under the supervision of instructors who have had many years of experience and training with cattle.

The school's permanent headquarters in Graveland is completely equipped to make full use of both scientific and practical demonstrations, and students are transported by the school's bus to the near-by Graham Farm and Ranch for the actual working experience with live cattle.

Since cattlemen come from all parts of the United States, as well as from other countries, Mr. Davis will have many opportunities for an exchange of ideas relating to all phases of the cattle business.

Local Boy Displays Talent On Organ

Robert Strong, 11, displayed his talent as a Hammond Organ player by taking part in the Hendry County Fair Talent show in Clewiston. He also played the organ, mounted on a float in the two parades in Clewiston and one in Moore Haven.

Young Strong son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Strong attends Belle Glade Elementary School and is in the 4th grade. He just seems to have music in his fing-ers. His teacher on the Hammond organ is Billy Dunn of Clewiston.

Americans Can Win In Sebring Races

Americans are hoping for two victories of the Stars and Stripes at Sebring on March 23rd — once just before the 12-Hour Endurance begins, and the second when the checkered flag falls on the winner of the international event.

If our flag goes to the top of the pole two times, it will mark the first time since 1953 that an American car has outrun and outlasted the European cars in this tremendous test of men and machines.

This year, for the first time in a decade, an American made car, with an American at the wheel, is given more — than a fighting chance to beat off the 12-hour challenge of the Ferraris, Jaguars, Porsches, Lotuses and all the other renowned imports.

Ready to throw down the gauntlet to the European machinery are more than a dozen Shelby AC Cobra Fords, Corvette Sting Rays, Chaparrals and Pontiacs.

And at their wheels will be American drivers anxious to prove that they are every bit as skillful, knowing and experienced as the Italian, English, German and South American chauffeurs.

The lethal Cobras and the Sting Rays pack the power to run with the European jobs. The Sting Ray has been clocked at 165 miles per hour even when wearing its "street clothes," and the Cobra is every bit as fast. If they can hold up over the main turn, long straightaways, sweeping bends, and snaky "essays" of the Sebring course, Uncle Sam might well be dancing a jig in Victory Lane, come 10:00 p. m. of March 23rd.

Few Americans will admit that the men who will drive the homebreds at Sebring are not the match of the European pilots, and that goes for Graham Hill of England, 1962 winner of the world driving championship. Aboard one of the Cobras will be Glenn Fireball Roberts of Daytona Beach, Fla., recognized as one of the top drivers of stock cars in the country. Fireball is a "charger," meaning he likes to be on top from flagfall to finish. Fireball is no novice to road races, either. He drove at Le Mans last year and was his favorite with the French for his relentless pushing of the accel-

SALLY COLLIER

One of Fireball's teammates will be Dan Gurney of California, long a world-renowned Grand Prix ace, and thought by many to be the best all-round driver in the world.

Heading the Sting Ray stable of drivers is A. J. Hoyt, the burly boy who won the Indianapolis 500 in 1961. Like Fireball, Hoyt thinks there is only one place to be in a race — at the top of the pack, winning.

Also in a Sting Ray will be Dr. Dick Thompson of Washington, D. C., for many years one of SCCA's national champions.

The Americans will have

Cigarette Taxes Exceed Whiskey's In Feb. Collection

A State Beverage Director Richard B. Keating says that collections may reach an all-time high this year as during February revenue collections climbed 1.6 per cent over the same period last year.

Collections from the sale of beer, wine, whiskey and cigarettes totaled $7,341,901.39 during the month, bringing total collections for the first eight months of fiscal year 1962-63 to $60,109,039.89, Keating said, and represents a 3.03 per cent climb over the first eight month of fiscal 1961-62.

Cigarette sales during February accounted for the largest single collection with $2,908,296.93. Whiskey followed with $2,124,670.64. Beer was next with $1,649,487.79 and wine was low with $630,652.83.

Total collections last year exceeded $86 million, making the State Beverage Department the second largest contributor to the State General Revenue Fund.

Their work cut out for them. That's for sure. Lined up against them are the fleetest cars of Europe, and driven by such men as Graham Hill, James Ireland, Pedro Rodriguez, John Surtees, Hans Hermann, Mauro Bianchi, and a host of others.

The Sebring 12-hour endurance battle this year will offer racing fans the chance of a lifetime to see the fastest American cars and drivers in head-to-head man-to-man competition with the best the rest of the world has to offer.

Hydro Or Vacuum Cooling Effective For Quality Celery

Whether the field heat of freshly harvested celery is removed by hydrocooling or vacuum cooling makes no difference in its quality. Both methods, say researchers in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, are equally effective in protecting high quality in celery.

The researchers in USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service did extensive research to compare the two methods for celery. In earlier AMS tests, vacuum cooling and hydrocooling have also been found to give an equally good performance with cauliflower and garden peas.

In some cases, however, one of the processes has proved better than the other for certain vegetables. Hydrocooling, for instance, gives better protection to asparagus and sweet corn because a lower temperature can be maintained. AMS plans a series of additional tests to compare the effects of vacuum cooling on the quality of different vegetables.

In the tests for celery quality, although hydrocooling resulted in somewhat lower temperatures in some instances, the most important commercial factor — the salability rating — was the same for celery cooled by either process.

Both pre-packaged and crate-packed Pascal celery were used, and standard commercial practices were followed in all cooling tests.

Buy and Save! Studies On Cellulose In Rumens

University of Florida scientists are currently conducting studies with cattle and sheep to find out just what is required for digestion of cellulose, an important livestock energy source. Cellulose is the carbohydrate contained in roughages, the primary ingredient in the diets of ruminants.

According to Dr. John Moore, assistant animal nutritionist with the Agricultural Experiment Station's Animal Science Department, the development of microorganisms and fermentation are necessary in the stomach of an animal before digestion of cellulose can take place.

In research studies designed to gain basic information about rumen fermentation, University of Florida graduate student J. E. Martin found that magnesium is required by rumen microorganisms which digest cellulose.

Moore explains that "fistulated" steers, animals with a special opening into their stomach which allows scientists to examine the contents, were used to compare the rumen microorganisms of steers fed a ration containing magnesium and one deficient in magnesium. Steers fed the magnesium deficient ration were found to have a significantly lower rate of cellulose digestion and displayed a loss of appetite. This same reaction was obtained when magnesium deficient rations were fed weathers.

New Dwarf Snapdragons Available

Betty Lou Henderson

Gardeners who buy wall-thin air conditioners, drive compact cars, sleep in 8 x 9 bedrooms and buy more tissues in smaller boxes will enjoy the host of new mid-size flowers now available.

One new dwarf flower you may like to try this spring is a snapdragon called Sprite. It comes in a whole series of hybrids called Sprites, including Scarlet, White and Yellow Sprites, plus a mixture of the separate colors.

The Sprites grow only 12 to 14 inches tall. They are "back savers" since they require no staking as protection against March winds. Instead of obtruding skyward, the hybrid vigor is spent on multiple flower stems that give colorful eye appeal.

These new snapdragons blend nicely into a mixed border and produce several displays of blossoms before succumbing to summer temperatures or heavy rains.

It's not too late to plant snapdragons if you don't procrastinate another day. Also, if Sprites is not available, try a variety that is heat tolerant. Such varieties will likely adjust to our warm Spring weather and produce flowers longer.

Another suggestion is to purchase three-inch high plants from your garden supply store. This will give you a head-start on your neighbors who planted seeds several weeks ago.

If you already have a bed of a tall variety of snapdragons underway, be sure to pinch out the tops of the plants after they reach 8 inches in height. This will induce bottom branching and will insure that you will produce more bloom spikes per plant.

If you are after tall stems and long spikes for cut flowers, then stake the plants when they are 8 inches high. Staking will prevent the plants from falling over and make an attempt to "turn" in an attempt to grow upright again.

Snapdragons are subject to nematode damage, a rot. If you can't fumigate the soil, try to pick a disease-free soil to prevent the ravages of Rhizoctonia rot, try such chemicals as Karbam, Fermate or wettable Spergon.

March is fertilizer time. Give azaleas and camellias an application of special acid-type fertilizer as soon as they are finished blooming. Lawns, too, are generally hungry. So give them a supply of plant food.

Some "professionals" like to give the winter-weary grass a quick green-up application of high nitrogen fertilizer. Most home owners may like to stick to a balanced fertilizer made up of equal amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. A pound of fertilizer per 1,000 sq. ft. of lawn area will need about 25 pounds of a 16-8-8 (or similar) fertilizer per 1,000 sq. ft. of lawn area to wake it up from its winter nap.

The best time to fertilize is when the ground is moist. As soon as the plant food is applied, be sure to water the lawn plants useful for edgings or as a large mass planting to add color to your yard. They like acid materials. While fertilizing the grass, don't forget the shrubbery and annuals — they will need a light application of food to keep them growing at top speed.

If you didn't get the cadmium future, is the present well seen bulbs started during February, to, and the last duty done, put them in the ground now.

What is believed to be the first organized program ever attempted to tag King Mackerel has been put into motion in Florida with the capture and carrying of 200 King Mackerel by the Schiltz 1963 Florida Fishing Derby.

The Mackerel have been tagged in the Florida Keys in recent weeks by a tagging team of the Florida State Board of Conservation, it was announced by Robert M. Ingles, Director of Research for the Conservation Board. Ingles pointed out that to his knowledge, not only has this species never been the subject of an organized tagging program, but also that no tagged King Mackerel has ever been reported caught.

The King Mackerel, or "King Fish," is one of Florida's most prized fishes, being noted for its regal qualities in both sport and commerce. Although a migratory species, its migration patterns are at present merely "educated speculation."

"We hope," Research Director Ingles said, "that recaptures of Schiltz-tagged specimens will supply the first link in our study of the dynamics of the species." He added that this first tagging operation is only the beginning of a long-range, large scale tagging program that will be begun soon by the Conservation Board.

It is very difficult to tag King Mackerel, Ingles explained. The King is well armed with teeth, making it dangerous and unprofitable to handle. In addition, its respiratory system is so delicate that a specimen will die in a matter of seconds out of water, or if its fins are hampered.

To accomplish the delicate tagging, Consultant Biologist Robert Topp used a modification of the technique employed by the California Fish and Game Commission in tagging Pacific Albacore. Fraying Topp for the project, Ingles said Topp had found it necessary to wrap each captured King in a wet towel while affixing the tag with the greatest possible speed. It's a matter of speculation where the Schiltz-tagged King Mackerel will turn up. None has been reported caught yet.

Students Hike

At 6:00 a. m., on March 9 Miss Bottoms and twenty-four students began a fifty-mile journey to Port Mayaca and back to Ann Hearn. The hike provided many interesting sights and experiences for the enthusiastic crew. These things included dead snakes, dead frogs, dead birds, dead raccoons, dead opossums, dead turtles, and half-dead people.

As the destination neared, the group became smaller and smaller and finally dwindled to six people. Patricia Hodges was the first one to drop out of the hike. As the miles were covered, one by one and two by two the students began to grow too weary to continue their walking. Ruth Ann Hearn and Judy Barton walked a few miles past Canal Point and then turned back. Roy Burch, Shark McSwain and Dennis Miller gave up soon after the two girls left. Ann Williams quit at Canal Point, also. Katherine Holm, Kathy Morris and Audrey Mathis, all seventh graders, passed the half-way mark before deciding to side on to Belle Glade. George Pinon decided that the hike was even worse than Castro and left the group at the half way mark, also. Sony Campbell followed suit. Sandra Farmer, who quit because a bad back was one of the most unpleasant walkers for the first part of the hike.

Four of the people in the back of the truck went back to Pahokee and had crossed the forty-mile mark before giving up. Gloria Byars, Joyce Byars, Cecil Kelley and Kenneth Crawford stopped due to rain and sore feet.

Sam P. Turnbull, Jr., of the County Sheriff's Department, joined the group for the last eighteen miles. He proved to be an able pace setter and leader for those last tireless miles.

At 10:30 foot sore and weary, the six finishers finally reached the end of the hike at the Fish Camp, Lynda Long, Joyce Kirkman, Diane Ward, Adrian Byars and Gene Hollingsworth accomplished what many citizens of Belle Glade, Pahokee, and Canal Point kept saying would never be done. They walked fifty miles and their comments ranged from "It was a blast!" to "I still think we were all crazy." But it was worth it.

Belle Glade Girl
In State Golf Finals

As a result of last Monday's golf match, Patti Wilkin, a tall athletic senior girl, became eligible for this state golf finals in April. In order to be eligible, one had to have a score of 50 or lower. The best score is a low one. Patti's score was 49, which is excellent. The next highest score in the conference is a 67.

Patti will compete with top girls from all over the state in Gainesville.

Hi! Last week everyone seemed to be a little tired. No wonder. Mary Lou R. house was jumping all night the Fri. before last. Betty G.'s house was going fairly well Sat. night too.

Speaking of going fairly well, Avaagil P. and Bobby C. seem to have a standing Sun. night date.

The drags on March 9th attracted Brenda W. and her steady plus Andy and Mike. Mr. Wonder will be there April 7th.

The 50 mile hike seemed to have produced interesting results for a certain teacher we know. Anyone for another hike?

Interested in the prom dates? Here are a few: Becky H. and Wayne W.; Franci B. and Bert D.; Tommy C. and Kay G.; Frank P. and Marynez C.; Bonnie Jeanne and Bill W.; Larry T. and Ginger C.; Sandra R. and Frank K.

Be sure and read our column in the next Ram Page we'll do our best to keep you up with the prom dates so you'll know who's still free.

A number of 46 did not study at all; 52 studied for thirty minutes; 63 for one hour; 42 for two hours; 19 for three or more hours.
2. Should the age for voting be lowered? Yes 67; No 269.

Faculty Tops
The Varsity

For the third straight year in a row, the faculty basketball team defeated the varsity, before a laughing, cheering crowd of almost 500. The game sponsored by the Beta Club and faculty, was held in the gym March 12. The evening contest featured a double-header, the first game between the women teachers and the girls' intramural squad, and the second game between the male members of the faculty and the varsity basketball team.

The initial game found the women teachers almost shutting out their student opponents by a score of 25-3. Heading the scoring was Miss Bottoms with 15 points, followed by Mrs. Peggy Smith with 6. Mary Alice McMillan and Ann Williams both scored a field goal, and Helen Zywicki scored a free throw, to account for the students' total.

The game was characterized by flailing, falling, and sliding members of the fairer sex, and was highlighted by four senior boys clad in cheering apparel who served as cheerleaders for the victorious faculty. The climax came when the led the boys sneaked onto the floor before the eyes of the bewildered referee.

In the second game, the faculty edged the varsity, 35-32, in a close, hard-fought contest. All-Suncoast Conference team member, Tom Collins, led the faculty with 14 points, followed by Buckner with 11. La-timer, 9, and Kruse with 8. For the faculty, Coach Thornton and Coach Luke put together a 22 and 26 respectively to thwart their team-mates.

Mr. Fortenberry, chairman of the faculties Scholarship Committee, reported following the game. The game was a success, both financially and entertaining wise. We appreciate the fine support of the student body and faculty."

FEA Convention
Opened Mar. 14

Three Belle Glade High teachers, Mr. Lovell, Coach Burke, and Miss Hardee attended the first day sessions of the Florida Educational Association in Jacksonville on March 14. The purpose of these sessions is to discuss the trades of the teachers and the various methods used in teaching.

Dr. Dana M. Cotton, of Harvard University, told the school administrators that action is needed to help bring more creative imagination to the people. Earlier identity of talent, reorganization of the educational structure, recruitment of a larger share of the able minds from educational enterprises and the broadening base of support for education is also very important.

A holiday of March 15 was set aside for B. G. H. students in accordance with this State Teachers meeting.

Editorials

A Point Of View
'Best... West Palm Beach, Here We Are!

The past year has made many of the big coastal schools blink their eyes and stare with their mouths agape that there is a town called Belle Glade somewhere out THERE. They found this out in football season, and now, they have sadly rediscovered the same after the County Speech Contest in which Belle Glade once more carried away honors.

The contest has traditionally been dominated by the larger city schools such as Rosarian, Riviera Beach and Forest Hill. Their egos tumbled, however, when the "Poor Beagies from the West" moved in and stole their thunder.

Now I may be slightly prejudiced (And I am), but I can't help but feel that our coastal counterparts have learned an important lesson. At the same time, I think WE can also learn a lesson — an even more valuable one. We have shown this county that we can equal or top anything that any other school can do. Why can't we continue this record, and BE THE BEST in the whole county, the whole Suncoast Conference, or even the whole southern part of Florida!

"You have gone too far this time," you may say to me. "How can you expect us to compete with schools twice our size and still stay on top?"

Well, the answer is a difficult one, and certainly one that can't be done over night. There are four steps to its solution:

1. We must cultivate and develop the talent that we have. Since we lack large numbers of students from which to choose, we must train and develop well the ones we have.

2. We must create more enthusiasm and honor about participating in our athletics, contests, and interscholastic activities. For example, a quick personal count revealed over five boys in our school are over six feet, two inches tall, and yet none of them have gone out for basketball. Maybe they couldn't make the team now, but if they had been produced a few years ago, perhaps they could have made it. Belle Glade is well-known for its small basketball teams.

3. We must develop a stronger school pride and spirit, as an incentive for those who do participate to do their very best. 4. YOU must be one to participate. We cannot expect to win anything without participants, and you, — yes, YOU — must be that participant. Someone must do it. True, not everyone can be a football star or a math wizard, but everyone can do something, or at least TRY; and that is all that is expected.

We can hardly hope to win the conference title in every sport; we can't expect to win all the Science Fairs, speech contests, or talent shows
